#ANYWOMANANYWHERE CAMPAIGN

In celebration of International Women's Day 2019, Zero Tolerance, AMINA The Muslim Women's Resource Centre, The Church of Scotland and Summerhall ask you to join us in our new campaign #AnyWomanAnywhere to increase awareness and understanding of violence against women.

We're hosting a series of events at Summerhall, including a photography exhibition, workshops, talks and film screenings. We're also taking the campaign to the streets with a large scale animation projected on to a building in the Grassmarket, Edinburgh.

In recent years there has been a lot of discussion about women's inequality. Many people may, therefore, think that 'we already have equality'. This stands in contrast to the reality of significant inequalities that cause violence against women. This violence affects many women's lives every day and any woman anywhere can be affected.

More than 1 in 3 women experience violence in their lifetime regardless of their backgrounds, social status, sexuality, faith, ethnicity or ability. Both women and men are more likely to experience violence at the hands of men and all of this violence is unacceptable.

This violence isn't always physical and it can take many different forms: psychological, sexual, spiritual, emotional or verbal. It can be: sexual harassment at work, controlling behaviour in a relationship, stalking, online abuse and street harassment. These forms of violence might not cause physical suffering but still cause huge harm to survivors.

VIOLENCE UNSEEN

PHOTOGRAPHY EXHIBITION

Over the past decades, there have been dramatic changes to public attitudes around some aspects of men's violence against women. Yet domestic abuse, sexual violence and other forms of violence against women are still prevalent in Scotland today, especially for groups of women who face other forms of discrimination: women with learning disabilities, women who sell sex, lesbian, bisexual and trans (LBT), migrant, black, Asian and minority ethnic women.

Zero Tolerance and an award-winning photographer Alicia Bruce have worked with groups and individuals affected by men's violence to create a series of photographs that explore the types of violence against women that remain unseen, hidden and unacknowledged by mainstream society.

HOPSCOTCH A FILM BY ROXANA VILK

BASED ON NADINE AISHA'S POEM 'HOPSCOTCH'

What happens when you walk down the street...if you're a young woman of colour...who may or may not wear a hijab? 'Hopscotch' produced by Amina – Muslim Women's Resource Centre with support from Edinburgh Rape Crisis Centre, explores just that.

A film poem based on the true account of the harassment and violence experienced by women of colour and Muslim women in public spaces, 'Hopscotch' aims to highlight the lived reality for many women across Scotland today.

This film will be shown on loop every day throughout the duration of the Violence Unseen exhibition.

VIOLENCE UNSEEN IN CONVERSATION

Join us for an evening of discussion on the link between gender inequality and violence against women and the importance of listening to and including in the debate various groups of women, and their multi-layered facets and experiences of life. The discussion will be led by women who helped with the development of the project and representatives of women's and equalities organisations in Scotland.

DOCUMENTARY FILM THE JUDGE

WITH PANEL DISCUSSION

When she was a young lawyer, Kholoud Al-Faqih walked into the office of Palestine's Chief Justice and announced she wanted to join the bench. He laughed at her. But just a few years later, Kholoud became the first woman judge to be appointed to the Middle East's Shari'a (Islamic law) courts.

THE JUDGE offers a unique portrait of Judge Kholoud - her brave journey as a lawyer, her tireless fight for justice for women, and her drop-in visits with clients, friends, and family. With unparalleled access to the courts, THE JUDGE presents an unfolding vérité legal drama, with rare insight into both Islamic law and gendered justice. In the process, the film illuminates some of the universal conflicts in the domestic life of Palestine - custody of children, divorce, abuse - while offering an unvarnished look at life for women and Shari'a.
